Welcome to PETER & WOLFF

Highest priority is the quality of our dishes. That counts for the product itself as well as to the preparation. We set a high value on using seasonal products which are cooked with lots of creativity and craftsmanship. Wherever possible our aim is to use regional products as we always prefer a direct contact to our farmers and suppliers. The daily preparation, in combination with our first class products, guarantees the highest quality possible as our goal is to offer our guests an honest and straightforward kitchen.
The Rembrandt Room is on the ground floor adjoining our restaurant Peter & Wolff. With its wood panelling and in the face of noblemen taken portraits of by Rembrandt it is an elegant setting for family celebrations as well as for business lunches.
